Monthly Performance Report • May 2026

HIGHLIGHTS

Google search results show two types of visibility: the map listings at the top, and the regular website results below them. Three Cities Social Club is showing up in both, with organic wins at River North worth calling out this month.

RIVER NORTH

River North held 7 top-3 Maps positions this month, including 6 at number one. The point rank for River North Social Club is #1, and the average rank is also #1 citywide, meaning the profile is visible at the top of Maps across the full city, not just near Ohio Street. Total actions on the River North profile came in at 416. Leads held flat at 18, with 11 phone calls and 7 web chat conversations captured. On the organic side, Chicago social club membership climbed 3 positions to rank 9th, and adult social club Chicago held the 1st organic position.

WICKER PARK

Wicker Park had the strongest single move of the month. Community events Wicker Park jumped 8 positions to reach number one in Maps, with a point rank of #1 and an average rank of #2 citywide. That is the biggest rank gain across both locations this month. Eight keywords are holding the top spot in Maps at Wicker Park. Profile actions reached 502, up 25% over April, and phone calls came in at 14, up 27%. On the organic side, social club Wicker Park and Wicker Park social club both hold the 1st organic position.

OPPORTUNITIES

GBP impressions were down at both locations in May, dropping roughly 35% at River North and 32% at Wicker Park. Both profiles held strong Maps positions throughout the month, so the rankings don't explain it. There is no clear cause in this month's data. We will watch it in June. If impressions continue dropping while rankings hold, that points to something structural worth digging into on the profile side.

At Wicker Park, Chicago social club membership dropped out of the top-50 Maps rankings. That keyword started the program at number one and is a high-value term connecting to the citywide audience that matters most for membership growth. Several organic positions also slipped at both locations this month, most notably coworking social club Chicago at River North, which dropped 6 positions to rank 9th organically. The primary lever for recovering and expanding both Maps and organic reach is reviews. Chicago Sport and Social Club holds 230 reviews at a 4.6 rating. At 48 reviews, River North is building. Wicker Park at 12 reviews has the most ground to make up. Review volume is what expands the average rank from the immediate neighborhood to the full city.

The networking events Chicago page remains the most actionable website opportunity. Searches for networking events and community events are already driving Maps traffic to both profiles. A dedicated page at threecitiessocial.com/networking-events-chicago would give those searches a place to land on the website and give Google more content to associate with the terms where Three Cities Social Club is already showing up.

ACTIONS FOR THIS MONTH

Two of this month's actions carry forward from April because they remain the most impactful steps available.

Google Business Profile

Ask two or three members at each location for a Google review. Wicker Park at 12 reviews is the priority. A review that mentions the experience and the neighborhood carries more weight than a general rating and directly supports expanding the average rank beyond the immediate area. River North members mentioning River North, Wicker Park members mentioning Wicker Park.

Google Business Profile

Upload 5 to 8 renamed photos to each Google Business Profile. Examples for River North: river-north-social-club-chicago.jpg, chicago-networking-club-river-north.jpg. Examples for Wicker Park: wicker-park-social-club-chicago.jpg, community-events-wicker-park-chicago.jpg. Rename each file before uploading.

Pass this to your web person: several organic positions dropped this month, including coworking social club Chicago (down 6 to #9) and Chicago social club membership (down 3 to #9). The site copy is intentionally minimal, but Google has no searchable language to hold those rankings. The fix does not require new pages. On the homepage and the Locations page, work in natural references to the terms people are searching: social club membership in Chicago, coworking social club, networking events Chicago, community events River North, community events Wicker Park. These do not need to replace the existing copy. A sentence or two per section is enough. The second priority is adding a standalone page at /networking-events-chicago, which would give the strongest keyword group a dedicated place to land.

If You Only Do One Thing This Month

Ask members at Wicker Park for Google reviews. At 12 reviews, the Wicker Park profile has the biggest gap between its Maps rankings and its citywide reach. Reviews are what close that gap. Two or three members mentioning Wicker Park in what they write will do more for that profile's average rank than any other single action this month.
